Relevant extracts from the ECCQ Constitution:

*Clause 12 (d):

Association Members shall be entitled to the following number of Delegate(s) to represent and to vote on behalf of the Association Members at any general meeting:

- (i) An Association Member with up to thirty (30) members is entitled to ONE Delegate.
- (ii) An Association Member with thirty-one (31) or more members is entitled to TWO Delegates.
- (iii) An Association Member with one hundred (100) or more members is entitled to THREE Delegates.

Clause 12(f):

The Association Member must appoint the designated number of Delegate(s) every year before the AGM. Forms for nominating Delegate(s) with voting and representative right shall be provided by ECCQ to each Association Member entered in the Members' register with the notices of the AGM. Such forms are to be returned completed direct to ECCQ by no later than one week prior to the date of holding the AGM. Each Association Member shall notify the Board of its accredited Delegate(s) each year and also any changes of Delegate(s) that may occur from time to time.

Clause 13 (d):

Corporate Members shall be entitled to one Delegate to represent the Corporate Member and to vote on its behalf at any general meeting.

Clause 13 (e):

Nothing shall prevent a Corporate Member from not appointing a Delegate as entitled under clause 13(d).
